The President and the Board of Governors of the American Association of Otolaryngologists of Indian Heritage (AAOIH) cordially invite you to attend our 37th Annual Dinner Meeting.

This year our featured guest is Douglas Waddell, Director of Managed Care and Government Markets. He will address the meeting and discuss the topic of " The Affordable Care Act: What it means for otolaryngologists." Mr. Waddell has lectured extensively on this subject around the country and has educated many physicians on this important piece of legislation.

Attendance at the meeting this year is anticipated to be large. RSVP for dinner is strongly recommended. For program details and information, please contact Ashutosh Kacker, MD or visit our website www.aaoih.com.

Otolaryngologists of Indian Heritage who are interested in becoming AAOIH members and wish to take part in the activities of our association are recommended to contact Ameet Singh, MD (dr.ameetsingh.ent@gmail.com) for details.

The president will convene the Executive Governing Board meeting of AAOIH on Sunday in the ICS room of the Convention Center to discuss the pending issue of the AAO-HNSF's AAOIH-IVS program. Board members are urged to RSVP attendance to Satish Govindaraj, MD. The IVS issue will be finally settled in the General Body meeting.
