

The Diversity Endowment provides a critical base of funding for underserved minorities to create programs that facilitate education about inclusion, place a greater emphasis on inclusion, and encourage exploration of our specialty by medical students everywhere.

The Diversity Endowment provides a perpetual stream of resources to support diversity projects, including:

- Annual grant awards for medical rotations in otolaryngology
- Medical Student and Resident Leadership Grants for the Annual Meeting and for the Board of Governors (BOG) Meeting
- Distinguished Research prizes for meritorious medical student or resident papers from under-represented minority researchers
- Centralized Otolaryngology Research Efforts (CORE) grant funding for research in areas related to healthcare disparities that have an impact on an under-represented patient populations, and/or to support projects of young investigators from under-represented minorities
- Increased marketing outreach to Training Program Directors and to Medical Programs to encourage awareness of the specialty, its commitment to diversity, and the AAO-HNS/F
